AUTHOR INDEX
Volume 8

Anstaett, David, 144
Artley, A. Sterl, 103

Badaczewski, Dennis, 22
Beach, Richard, 235
Binkley, Janet R., 248
Bouchard, Lois Kalb, 44
Brown, Carl R. V., 83

Daniels, Harvey A., 37
Dilworth, Collett B., Jr., 51
Donlan, Dan, 229
Dudley, Juanita Williams, 174

England, David, 33

Farrell, Edmund J., 67

Gallo, Donald R., 246
Gere, Anne Ruggles, 204
Gundlach, Robert A., 37

Hasselriis, Peter, 111
Haugh, Oscar M., 209
Hogan, Craig, 182

Irsfeld, John H., 90

Jacobs, Lucky, 161

Kehl, D.G., 124
Kirby, Dan R., 139
Kroll, Barry M., 225

LaRocque, Geraldine E., 25
Larrick, Nancy, 3
Lindsey, Alfred J., 57

McCaffrey, Marilyn, 246
Mertz, Maia Pank, 12

Nelms, Ben F., 185
Nelson, G. Lynn, 131

Parker, Robert P., Jr., 145

Sarkisian, Ellen, 95

Shuman, R. Bairds, 217
Stensland, Anna Lee, 77

Thompson, Stephen, J., 195

White, John, 167

Editor's Acknowledgements, 1976-77

After almost two decades of teaching writing, I should not find it so difficult to write one simple paragraph, but each year I find myself struggling just a little harder to find right words to say thank you to the people who help me with English Education: Lois Haig and Carol Devore, who have come to epitomize for me the warmth and efficiency of the NCTE headquarters staff; Vernon Smith and the CEE committee on publications, especially its newest member, Dan Kirby, for prompt and unfailingly helpful responses to manuscripts; my graduate students, Ruie J. Pritchard and Roy F. Fox, who seem to enjoy working with the manuscripts and whose work is a joy to me; Leona Mack, the secretary par excellence; and my friend and co-worker, Elizabeth D. Nelms.

Now if someone will just teach me how to write editor's acknowledgements so that they don't sound like an acceptance speech at the Tony awards presentation, I will acknowledge his/her assistance in this space next year. My expression may falter, but my gratitude is genuine.

Ben F. Nelms

TITLE INDEX
Volume 8

Affective Strategies in the Methods Class, 139

Back to the Basics: Phase II,

Balanced Evaluation of Student Essays, 248

Blurred Images: English Apostles Middle America, 33

Cultural Democracy and Cultural Variability in Chicano Literature, 83

Customers 29¢ a Head: Autobiography and English Methods, 37

Declining Academic Abilities—Both Sides of the Atlantic, 229

Doctoral Degrees and English Education, 217

Education through Poetry: Teachers Learning through Writing, 145

Expressive Writing Course for Teachers and Prospective Teachers, An, 44

First American Literature, The, 77

German Model for Teacher Education, A, 225

Griffin in the English Department, 174

Hey, Mon, Who Put the Television in the Closet?, 3

How Do You Teach an Adolescent Literature Course, 246

Humanizing Supervision, 182

In the Fields of Academe, 124

Lessons from Pooh—And the Judging of Essay Contests, 185

Literature and Prison, 167

New Wine for the Old Bottle: Innovations for Preparing Teachers of English, 209

Nothing New Under the Sun: Theory and Practice in Teacher Education, 25

Now I Know What the Story Is About, 95

On Beginning an Education After Having Been Educated, 67

One Answer to One Question: Selecting Candidates for Teacher Certification, 204

Popular Culture and the Social Construction of Reality, 12

Putting Remediation into Remedial Reading, 103

Regroup to Win, 57

Research and the Literature Methods Class, 235

Spinning, 144

Teaching Reading Means Reaching Teachers, 111

Test Score as Metaphor, The, 51

Theory and Practice in School-University Planning of Teacher Education, 195

Three Approaches to the Teaching of Poetry Writing, 161

Toward a New English Teacher, 131

What Students Read Outside of Class, or Underground Literature, 90

Where Will Our Future English Teachers Come From?, 22